Administration

Saint Mary's administrators form a unique triad, each striving for a new beginning in a different way.

Father Paul Ortmeier takes care of the external aspects of the schools. Sisters Agnesmarie and Gloria tend to the inner workings of the grade and high school systems.

Sister Agnesmarie Slaight is enjoying her first year as Saint Mary's Elementary School principal.

Father Paul, pastor, links the schools with Saint Patrick's Parish, an "eye-opening experience."

Sister Gloria Shuffer is seeking to start new traditions in the school system, in addition to the routine duties of an administrator and high school principal.

Saint Mary's administration is part of the schools' new beginning, bringing special spirit and pride to SM.

Father Ortmeier takes a much-needed break from his parish and school duties.

Sister Gloria is an integral part of Saint Mary's, starting new traditions of excellence and enjoying it.

Grade school Principal Sister Agnesmarie enthusiastically pursues excellence in education.

Saint Mary's faculty bring color and variety to students' lives. Each teacher and staff member has unique talents. These talents are blended into a whole, equalling more than the sum of its parts.

Each of these people has put forth maximum effort in teaching and in setting an example for students.

Teachers have shown a renewed desire to enthuse students with the spirit of wanting to learn and to go after their education.

Faculty members' standards of excellence will pay off in the future, allowing students to sharpen the skills that will help them make their dreams come true.

NEED WE SAY

This spirited junior class has turned quite a few heads this year. They have filled St. Mary's halls with their sense of humor and laughter. Gifted with varied talents, the class of 1992 has excelled in both athletics and academics. The halls of St. Mary's will echo with the antics of this class for a long time.

Driving! The very word sent chills down the spines and glamorous pictures to the heads . . . like cruising on a Friday night, trips with our friends to wherever we wanted to go, right? Well, almost. Back up! Like most students, first we had to spend some quality time with a Driver's Ed teacher, such as O'Neill's Mr. Leonard or Mr. Hayes. Then there was practicing with our parents, of which there are two types: the verbal ones and the nervous-yet-silent type. The verbal ones told us if they feared for their lives, or that there's a stop sign there, or . . . while the nervous-yet-silent type were just that. They left to our active imaginations our possible mistakes.

However we learned, we did, and now it's full speed ahead! Onward to our mobile destinies . . . but first let's take it out of reverse, okay? Mark Storjohann and his car find instant popularity in this sophomore group.

Classes

Interests

Futures

A diverse group, the sophomores found themselves going many directions this year, and not simply because they were driving. They took advantage of the new opportunities open to them. For the academically interested, there was mock trial. Speech class alone presented the one-act plays, the speech team, and eligibility for the musical. In sports, more from this class made up the varsity teams. For all, a choice of classes was finally given. Some chose art, others mixed chorus, others Journalism, others P.E., and some chose to be teacher aides during their study halls. The 90-91 school year was the first this class did not have any classes as a group. "It was really strange," reflected one student. "I guess we won't be together forever." Probably not, because it is apparent the sophomores are well on their way to becoming their individual futures.

There is no doubt that such creative students will work hard and excel throughout their next three years here at St. Mary's.

Energetic

The 1990-91 eighth grade class displayed many admirable traits which were exhibited through participation in religious, sports, academics, arts, and cheerleading activities. Being a creative class, they have the potential to overcome any challenge that comes their way. Lively, friendly, and energetic is the best way to describe this class.

The Gift Of Friendship

Friendship is a priceless gift
That cannot be bought or sold,
But its value is far greater
Than a mountain made of gold —
For gold is cold and lifeless,
It can neither see nor hear,
And in times of great trouble
It is powerless to cheer —
It has no ears to listen,
No heart to understand,
It cannot bring you comfort
Or reach out a helping hand —
So when you ask God for a gift,
Be thankful if He sends
Not diamonds, pearls or riches,
But the love of real true friends.

Student Service

St. Mary's students have been involved in various community service activities this year.

As always, parish fundraisers were part of the service "curriculum." Students worked at the Mulligan Stew Feed, Parish Auction dinner, and pancake breakfasts. Others were involved in the O'Neill Irish Dancers' community activities.

Several St. Mary's students have helped recruit prospective students.

Anna Shefl received the parish council's senior student award in recognition of her service to the school and the parish.

Also, students, their families, the school, and the parish community have supported and hosted foreign exchange students.

Academic Traditions

Student Council

Saint Mary's Student Council- A New Beginning was the theme for the 1990-91 student council. Activities focused on continuing the Saint Mary's tradition of excellence.

Besides traditional fundraisers such as the student council pancake breakfast, parish auction dinner, and Mulligan Stew Feed, student council sponsored other activities. Special Masses, prayer services, and the Christmas party are examples of these events.

Students and faculty are linked by this service-oriented body.

This year's student council indeed helped shape the future through a "new beginning."

FTA

Future Teachers of America is an organization for sophomores, juniors, and seniors who either are interested in the teaching profession or are willing to assist teachers in both St. Mary's elementary and secondary schools. The students in FTA must spend a minimum of one hour in service to an assigned teacher. That service may be correcting papers, typing, assisting with P.E. classes, answering the office telephone and other assorted tasks. During the 1990-1991 school year, seven seniors, five juniors and six sophomores were FTA members assisting five teachers in the grade school and seven teachers in the high school.

St Mary's Mock Trial team once again exhibited excellence in 1990. Frostee Peetz's legal expertise helped to guide the aspiring young attorneys and witnesses on the path to success. The Junior Varsity team did extremely well despite their lack of previous experience. The Varsity team came close to triumphing when they tied with Ainsworth at districts. As the result of an extremely close tie-breaker, they failed to advance to regional competitions. All members gained valuable experience and knowledge of legal procedures.

C. Closson testifies to the whole truth.

Journalism

Skills In Action

Though split into three periods, the '90-'91 journalists still created fine publications. Staffers learned photography, effective writing, creative planning within the guidelines of a budget, deadlines, and responsible journalism. There were three editions of the school paper, the Marian Outlook, to make, along with this very yearbook. Mrs. McCarville strived to bring out the best in the students. Traditionally, the "hands-on" experience through Journalism 209 was relished.

Academics

The intellectual development of the students is only one aspect of the quality education that St. Mary's High School provides for its students. This year a special emphasis was put on academics, seeking or foster analytical thinking. Students were encouraged to develop practical and aesthetic values as well. By sharing in a well developed curriculum, expanding their computer skills, participating in art and music, taking advantage of the Media Center, and understanding the Gospel values, students prepared themselves for the twentieth century society.

St. Mary's has sought to provide total education for its students for over ninety years. She takes pride in having produced students who continue to build a society that reflects the Good News of Jesus Christ.

1990 Cardinal Football was a mixture of excitement and disappointment, finishing the season 1-7. The team played well in its first three games despite picking up just one victory. In their next five games the Cardinals lost many key players to injuries, and this coupled with lack of numbers forced the team to play many inexperienced players. Although the season may not have been a great success in terms of wins and losses, many important values and experiences were gained by the individuals who participated.

The 1990-91 year was filled with the traditional enthusiasm and support of the cheerleaders. The ten-member squad consisted of Amy Reinke, Katie Willis, Lisa Fuhrer, Krista Gokie, Theresa Sawyer, Cindy Johnson, Amy Willis, Michaela Baurer, Cheleigh Closson, and Amy Chaney. Crowds were dazzled by the smiles and routines of these talented young ladies. With the great leadership of Peg Gardner and Carol Fuhrer, the girls used their talents to the fullest potential. From Sweetheart to the liturgical dance, the enthusiastic efforts of the cheerleaders must be praised.

Homecoming Events

As bikinis roamed the halls and lip syncs told of rebellion, homecoming tradition was broken. But in one aspect, it lived on- as the juniors won Spirit Week for the third year in a row. The dress-up days during the week featured geeks, twins, and mourners, and the hall decorations showed a great deal of creativity. Friday consisted of the traditional riot, Booster lunch, and pep rally. The week was definitely full of spirit, sometimes expressed in unfamiliar ways.

The Homecoming Dance was held Saturday, September 22 after the West Holt football game. Complete Music played, and although the dance was short, it was enjoyed by many. Kristin Mlnarik and Tim Walnofer were crowned to reign over the dance. Attendants included: Gina Butts and Ed Schaaf (seniors), Maureen Hannon and Jim Shoemaker (juniors), Michaela Bauer and Brian Riley (sophomores), and Amy Willis and Mike Steele (freshmen).

Girls' Basketball

S.M. girls completed a commendable season ending with a record of 7-9. The eighteen girls on the roster displayed leadership and team effort. With Dori Schneider and Genia Shoemaker out until after Christmas with injuries, the team was handicapped, but Coach Gardner's rotation of the offense and man-to-man defense proved an effective strategy that worked well.

Hard work, discipline, and teamwork were just a few of the values stressed in St. Marys basketball this year by first year coach Andy Lauby. Although the season ended with only four victories, vast experience was gained by younger team members.

Kevin Ziska and Jeff Mudloff, the only Cardinal seniors, gave steady performances throughout the season. Although these players will be missed, the team returns ten players from last year's varsity squad. This should make for a much deeper and more experienced Cardinal team in the 1991-92 season.

Cardinal Thinclads

The 1991 track year was a successful one for both girls' and boys' teams.

Boy members found success mainly in strength events, hurdles, and relays. Sprints and other field events also produced results for the Cardinals.

On the girls' side success came in running events, both long distance and sprints. Cardinal relays were consistently at the top of the heap.

Chris Shoemaker and Jill Balk represented St. Mary's track at the state meet in May.

Junior High Track had three meets this year with outstanding results. The Neligh Invitational was held April 5 with St. Mary's boys placing second and girls fourth. Joy Balk placed third in two events, with the girls' relay placing second. Tim Gokie placed third in one event and second in another. Ryan Berg placed third in two events Russ Berg coming in first in two events. The boys' relay team earned second place. The O'Neill Junior High Invite was held April 16 at the public school.

Kathleen Hannon, Kim Carr, Michelle Steele, Tricia Fuhrer, Cortney Wettlaufer, Molly Bauer, Bronwen Carr, Kim Boettcher, Joy Balk, Andrea Flaherty.

Six eighth graders and four seventh graders comprised the junior high girls' basketball team this year. This young team gained much experience, enough to take second at the St. Mary's Invitational Tournament.

Honors' Night

Salutatorian and Valedictorian - T. Crawford and A. Shefl.

Athletes of the year - K. Mlnarik and K. Ziska.

Departing seniors and varsity athletes were honored on May 1st at the annual awards assembly. Most valuable player and most improved player awards were given for various sports, as well as letters for those who lettered. Athletes of the Year, who must be in three sports and maintain a "B" average throughout their high school careers were Kris Mlnarik and Kevin Ziska. These two were also named Scholar Athletes. Academic awards were presented next, and valedictorian Anna Shefl and salutatorian Trina Crawford were recognized. Mrs. Rempp announced the seniors' scholarships and future plans. The J.T. McCarville scholarship was given to Kevin Ziska. Marian Awards were given to Patty Holbmerg and Joel Balk, who have demonstrated the Marian qualities of helpfulness, openness, cooperation, patience, and generosity.

End-Of-Year Activities

Each year on May first, St. Mary's students honor the patron of their school through a special ceremony. The highlight of the service is the crowning of the Blessed Virgin statue. This year, St. Mary's elementary students crowned the statue and formed a human rosary. The May Crowning is a special tradition.

Kevin Gokie, Jim Shoemaker, and Don Dugan fulfill their last obligation of the year.

A Final Tradition

Commencement exercises brought the hopes of the St. Mary's seniors to fruition, providing them with lasting memories.

Valedictorian Anna Shefl spoke about hope, stressing that both unfulfilled hopes and dreams that do come true have unified the class and prepared its members for the future. She said that St. Mary's has done her best to "give us the tools to make our dreams come true." While graduation is important, "our journey has not ended."

Salutatorian Trina Crawford's speech was about diversity and how individuals working together will "change the world by shaping it and molding it into a better place . . ."

The death of Sister Mary Carroll on November 28, 1990, coincided dramatically with the Year of New Beginnings for St. Mary's Schools. For 22 years — from 1957 to 1979 — Sister M. Carroll had exercised a major influence upon educational progress here. She kept her finger on the pulse of the times. In spite of difficulties, she dared to forge ahead with experimental educational methods. She was an inspiration to faculty and students alike, as she earned the attention and affirmation of archdiocesan and secular educators.

After 13 years at the helm of St. Mary's High School during its stormiest period of the 60's, Sister was well prepared to guide the destiny of the midwest province of her Franciscan Sisters. After five years, she was re-elected to the office of Provincial Minister and was able, in spite of terminal illness, to complete four and one half years of her second term.

In the years since 1979, Sister Mary Carroll found that her greatest joys consisted in the periodic visits to St. Mary's and her O'Neill friends. She was a native Nebraskan, having been born at Valentine, but she had sunk deep, deep roots in O'Neill and especially at St. Mary's.

Because Sister Mary Carroll spent many years developing the growth of Catholic Christianity in our school and in our parish, we will reap and continue to reap the profit of her endeavors for generations to come.

IN MEMORY OF SISTER M. CARROLL

Some say love it is a river
That drowns the tender reed.
Some say love it is a razor
That leaves your soul to bleed.

Some say love it is a hunger
An endless aching need.
I say love it is a flower
And you its only seed.

It's the heart afraid of breaking
That never learns to dance.
It's the dream afraid of waking
That never takes the chance.

It's the one who won't be taken
Who cannot seem to give.
And the soul afraid of dying
That never learns to live.

When the night has been too lonely
And the road has been to long
Then you think that love is only
For the lucky and the strong

Just remember in the winter
Far beneath the winter snow
Lies the seed that with the sun's
Love in the spring becomes
The Rose
